TODAY'S ANGLE — TARIFFS HIT APRIL 1

Lumber + steel tariffs went up yesterday. Inventory on the lot was ordered pre-tariff = current pricing is better than what's coming. Natural urgency, no promo needed. Also: it's spring — shed season is here.

📣 AD #1 — "APRIL IS HERE. PRICES CHANGED." (FB MARKETPLACE + GROUPS)

MARKETPLACE TITLE

10x12 Storage Shed — $159/mo · FREE Delivery · On the Lot Now

The deal from last month is gone.

But here's what didn't change: we still have 23 buildings on the lot, free delivery, and the same no-pressure approach I've always had.

What DID change on April 1st? Lumber and steel tariffs went up. That means the next batch of buildings that gets ordered costs more to build. The ones sitting on my lot right now? They were ordered before the tariff hike.

So the window to get pre-tariff inventory is literally now — while what's on the lot lasts.

- ✅ FREE delivery & setup

📣 AD #2 — "SPRING MATH" (FACEBOOK GROUPS)

Custom Workshop / Man Cave / She Shed — FREE Delivery · Financing Available

Quick spring math:

Storage unit: ~$150/month. Forever. You never own it. It's 20 minutes away.

A shed in your backyard: starts at $139/month rent-to-own. 3 years and you own it outright. Walk out your back door.

We just hit April. That means:

- Tariffs went up (costs us more to build)
- Demand picks up (spring is shed season)
- The lot inventory at current prices won't last

If you've been doing the mental math — the math is better right now than it'll be in May.

- ✅ 23 buildings on the lot
- ✅ FREE delivery & setup
- ✅ No credit check option available

📣 AD #4 — "THE GARAGE CONFESSION" (FACEBOOK GROUPS)

Real talk: you haven't parked in your garage since sometime in 2022. Be honest. 😂

Every spring you say "this is the year I clean it out." Every fall you're right back where you started.

Here's the cheat code: stop organizing the garage. Move the overflow to a shed.

Mowers, bikes, holiday stuff, tools, that treadmill nobody uses — all of it goes in the shed. Garage goes back to being a garage.

Prices just went up April 1st (tariffs). What's on the lot right now is at the old pricing.

- ✅ FREE delivery & setup
- ✅ Rent-to-own — no credit check
- ✅ Dozens in stock — see it before you buy
