DAYS SSL DOWN

#1 PRIORITY: SSL Certificate — 27 Days Expired

Website SSL expired February 19 — now 27 days down. Every visitor sees a security warning. Google WILL NOT index the site until this is fixed. This single issue blocks ALL online visibility.

Fix (15 minutes):

- Log into GoDaddy → SSL Certificates → Renew/Re-enable
- Submit sitemap to Google Search Console after SSL is live
- Request indexing for homepage

Nothing else matters until this is done. Every day costs you potential customers finding you online.

Today's Top 3 Actions

- FIX SSL CERT — 15 min in GoDaddy dashboard BLOCKING
- Complete GBP Profile — Currently at 7%. Add hours, photos, services, description. You're verified but invisible. 30 MIN
- Mattress Dogzzz Grand Opening (Mar 21) — 3 days away, Creve Coeur (affluent area). Print business cards before then. PREP

Pipeline & Opportunities

- Dead competitors confirmed: Super Scoopers (dead), Poopy Paws (dead), Fresh Paws (dead), Pawfect (dead). Their customers need you.
- DoodyCalls STL: Not listed in franchise directory anymore. Call (314) 230-8082 to confirm — could unlock commercial clients.
- Spring events loaded: Mattress Dogzzz (Mar 21), Crestwood Vet Paw-ty (Mar 28), Treats Unleashed Egg Hunt (Apr 4), Bark in the Park (May 16).
- Content ready to deploy: 13 spring posts, 3 IG posts, Nextdoor strategy, FB group capture posts — all written, waiting for you to post.

Competitive Landscape

- Poop2Scoop: $18/week — cheapest in market
- Tidy Tails (you): $25/week, $70/month — only flat monthly rate
- Doggie Doodies: $72/month — new, professional
- POOP 911: Free first clean promo running
- 4 competitors DEAD = market share up for grabs

- Latest: 2026.3.13 — ✓ We're on the latest release

→ Known CVEs: 9 CVEs tracked, ALL PATCHED in our version

⚠️ This Week's Threat Intel

- 6 new OpenClaw vulns reported by Endor Labs (SSRF, path traversal, auth bypass) — ALL patched in v2026.3.13
- China bans OpenClaw on gov systems — CNCERT flagged weak default configs enabling prompt injection
- McKinsey AI platform hacked — 46M messages accessed via SQL injection by autonomous agent
- ChatGPT Atlas browser prompt injection — Microsoft documented the vuln (Mar 12)
- Malicious ClawHub skills found — Cisco confirmed data exfil from unvetted third-party skills
- Infostealers targeting OpenClaw agents — Tens of thousands of misconfigured instances exposed

📋 Our Risk Assessment

- CVE Exposure: 🟢 LOW — all patched
- Prompt Injection: 🟡 MODERATE — industry-wide; our content wrapping helps
- Supply Chain: 🟡 MODERATE — don't install unvetted ClawHub skills
- Network Exposure: 🟢 LOW — not publicly accessible
- Overall: 🟢 NO ACTION REQUIRED — continue monitoring

💡 NEWS & IDEAS GROWTH

📰 Today's News: AI Agents Are Becoming Security Targets

StellarCyber published a comprehensive report on agentic AI security threats, warning that autonomous agents introduce risks including prompt injection, tool misuse, privilege escalation, and supply chain attacks. Meanwhile, an AI agent hacked McKinsey's platform in just 2 hours. Why it matters to you: We're ahead of the curve running security scans daily. Most small businesses using AI tools have zero security awareness. This could be a consulting upsell angle.

💡 Business Idea #1: AI Setup Service for Local Businesses

Most STL small businesses have heard about AI but haven't implemented anything. You're already running an AI-powered operation with automated briefings, CRM, ad copy generation, and security monitoring. Package this as a service: $500-2K to set up AI automation for local service businesses (lawn care, cleaning, HVAC). You know the pain points firsthand. Low startup cost — just your knowledge and time.

 Business Idea #2: Pet Event Pop-Up Vendor

With 14 pet events on your calendar through July, you could expand beyond Tidy Tails branding. Sell pet accessories (bandanas, poop bag holders, treat pouches) at vendor booths alongside your service cards. $200 inventory investment, mark up 3x. Cross-sells with Tidy Tails signups, and the booth pays for itself. Test at Bark in the Park (5,000-10,000 attendees).

 4 Tasks Franklin Could Handle Today

- Auto-post to Facebook groups — I have 13 posts ready. If you give me FB access or an automation tool, I can schedule them instead of waiting for manual posting.
- Build a review follow-up automation — I can create an automated text/email sequence that triggers after each service visit. No more remembering to ask.
- Research STL apartment complexes for commercial leads — I can identify 20+ apartment properties with pet-friendly policies and build a cold outreach list with property manager contacts.
- Create a "Why Tidy Tails" comparison page — Leveraging our competitive intel to build a landing page that directly compares us to competitors (especially our $70/mo advantage).
